OLD BUSINESS

Ms. Callahan had reviewed the Board's legislative proposal and identified a few issues that might result in unintended consequences. Ms. Callahan reviewed these issues and potential changes with the Board.

The Board discussed removing "undisciplined" from the qualifications for a temporary license and license by endorsement and instead requiring that the license from another jurisdiction is in good standing.

Next, the Board considered including gross negligence in the practice of architecture as a grounds for discipline. It was noted that this is common within the licensure context.

The Board also discussed clarifying the language proposed in Idaho Code 54-314(1)(i) so that it is more easily understood. Ms. Callahan recommended changing the language to read: "having had any professional or occupational license revoked, suspended or otherwise disciplined in Idaho or any other state, territory, country, or jurisdiction."

Ms. Callahan also noted that the section primarily devoted to discipline contained a subsection regarding an applicant's ability to request the Board review a prior conviction and that it is applicant's burden to prove fitness for licensure. This type of review appears to apply to applications for licensure rather than disciplinary actions. Therefore, moving it to another section of the Act could provide for better organization.

The Board reviewed the proposed language in Idaho Code 54-314(3) regarding the discipline that the Board may impose for violations of the law. It is the same as current language in Idaho Code 54-305(4). The Board discussed whether any changes would be beneficial or whether to retain the language under the current law.

The last item the Board discussed was to include the language from the current law to ensure the law clearly articulated that using the terms “architectural” and “architecture” imply that a person is holding himself or herself out as an architect.

Mr. Jensen made a motion to make all the changes as discussed but to keep the language in Idaho Code 54-314(3) the same as in the current law and currently proposed, and for the Chairman or Vice-Chairman to review the final draft. It was seconded by Ms. McClintick. Motion carried.

Ms. McClintick made a motion to request Mr. Rockwell review the final draft and give approval to submit the changes to the Governor’s Office and Legislative Services. It was seconded by Mr. Haight. Motion carried.

NEXT MEETING was scheduled for January 12, 2018.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. Cone made a motion to adjourn the meeting at 4:15 PM. It was seconded by Mr. Rockwell. Motion carried.
